mier Lloyd George Relegated to a Position of Minor Importance as Leader of Small Minority Party

London, Nov. 16 (By the Associated Press).-The long drawn out fight between former Premier Lloyd George and Sir George Younger for the time has ended with the victory of the chairman of the Unionist party. Younger and his adherents staked their political fortunes at the famous Carleton club meeting which smashed the coalition and sent Lloyd George into the widerness on the conviction that the country was ripe for a rewould support their conviction by house of commons with a good

While this can not be properly described as a landslide, as the Conservatives at the time of the dissolution of parliament numbered about 380, it amounts almost to the same thing, considering the peculiar circumstances of the time and the high eral parties of the return of the it may be supposed that the Conservatives themselves hardly expected such favorable results.

It means a parliament with little changes, except that Bonar Law replaces Lloyd George as prime THE STRONG minister and that the former premier's attenuated following of national Liberals reduced by the elections to under 50, will pre- Mussolini, Leader of Fascisti, sumably henceforth be in opposition, instead of working in cooperation with the Conservatives.

The downfall of Lloyd George is the outstanding feature of the elections. The coalition Liberals at the dissolution numbered 129; they are represented in the new parliament by only 44 members. There will be many regrets among he failed to take the advice of some of his well-wishers and retire temporarily or altogether from the political stage. The Asquithian Liberals lately improved their position, rising from 34 in the old parliament to 62 in the new but they did not do so well as they expected. On the other hand, Labor, although it failed to fulfill the high hopes the party entertained at the dissolution, has done exceedingly well, rising from 76 to 136 seats. It is generally believed that Labor would have done far better but for the tactical mistake in its advocacy of a cap-
